Note from the Management

In the present day modern and developing world, only organizations are successful in the field of production that focus on quality, creativity, and innovation as their main objective and provide the most ideal performance despite environmental changes and adverse economic conditions.

It is needless to say that maintaining the past goals, and aligning with the developments and challenges ahead, demands a comprehensive attitude regarding all the promoting factors, continuous improvement of the quantity and quality of products, making use of modern knowledge & technologies, and more efforts and contribution on behalf of all partners and personnel of this company.

The Rose Sanitary Ware Company has placed quality at the forefront of its activities & objectives, and regards customer satisfaction as its most important mission.

Furthermore, the company regards its active presence in competitive markets, and increasing its share of the market as one of its strategies. Undoubtedly, the support of our dear customers is a tremendous asset and helps us along this path.

Introducing the Company

The Ardakan Industrial Complex, with the tradename of Chi-ni-e Rose (Rose China in Persian) is the first modern Sanitary Chinaware company in Iran, and was built in a total area of over 170,000 m² and 35,000 m² of infrastructure (phase 1) in Ardakan City, Yazd.

The primary purpose of establishing this complex was to produce quality products and present them to global markets, and to establish a positive & constructive competition in the sanitary Chinese manufacturing industries of this land. In order to achieve this objective, extensive consultations were carried out with credible European companies, especially German ones. The result was the design of manufacturing halls and facilities, and the selection of the machinery was done under the supervision of ceramic experts.

The Ardakan Industrial Complex has committed itself to producing high quality products that meet global standards, and has utilized the technical knowledge & latest technology of the porcelain industry in order to achieve this purpose.

It is our most sincere hope that Iranian products will be at the forefront of international markets in all fields of business.
